Middle Nations Seek Formula For Disarming

GENEVA (AP)—Middle group diplomats at the 17-nation disarmament conference sought ways Sunday to work out a compromise between conflicting American and Soviet nuclear policies in the hope of heading off a testing race.

Their efforts formed part of a pattern of intricate pressures building up in and between Geneva, London, Washington and Moscow on this issue.

The United States is reported to have told several delegations here that President Kennedy intends to go ahead with the American testing series in mid-Pacific in late April unless negotiations produce a test ban treaty with efficient controls before then.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other members of the American delegation sought to convince the eight middle countries of the rightness of U.S.-British policy on the test ban issue.

The Americans hope the eight—Brazil, India, Mexico, the United Arab Republic, Sweden, Burma, Nigeria and Ethiopia—will try in turn to press the Russians to reconsider their policy. Moscow claims no international inspection arrangements are necessary to prevent test cheating.

Among the eight themselves there was a hope that some formula could be hammered out which would blend the national inspection ideas of the Russians with the international policing arrangements insisted upon by the United States and Britain.

The nuclear test ban problem has captured the spotlight from the rival Soviet and American general disarmament proposals submitted to the conference last week.

But Foreign Secretary Howard C. Green of Canada worked through the weekend preparing a speech he will deliver Monday morning. Aides said Green will try to define five or six points where the Americans and Russians might be able to reach agreement on disarmament measures.

U. S. Welcomes Algerian Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States welcomed Sunday's cease-fire agreement between France and the Algerian rebels and said it "provides a sound basis for a friendly and fruitful relationship between Algeria and France."

Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, phoned to news agencies the official reaction which he described as a White House statement, issued with the approval of President Kennedy.

The statement said: "The conclusion of the cease-fire agreement between French authorities and representatives of the FLN (Algerian National Liberation Front) is an historic achievement."

"The United States supports these efforts toward a mutually beneficial solution and welcomes the agreement. It provides a sound basis for a friendly and fruitful relationship between Algeria and France and it presents an opportunity for all residents of Algeria to contribute constructively toward the future."

"It is to be hoped that the opportunity will be quickly seized and that the wisdom in which the agreement was achieved will prevail in its execution. The United States is convinced that in this direction lies the path for a promising future."

Secret Army Vows War On Nationalists

Algiers Tense With More Bloodshed, Terror Threatened

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—Algerians feared the news of a cease fire Monday will bring only more bloodshed and terror.

Reinforced troop patrols moved through the nearly deserted streets, alert for trouble either from Moslems or the European Secret Army Organization which is sworn to block the road to Algerian independence.

Hours before the announcement, the secret army vowed war on the Algerian nationalists and said it no longer regards Charles de Gaulle as president of France.

"The cease-fire is now official," said the voice of a radio announcer, cutting in on a program of soft dinner music. His voice was somber, like the mood of the Europeans who dread what may lie ahead.

The silence of the city was broken by whistle blasts of tugboats in the harbor. They defiantly blew the five-beat "Algerie Francaise"—Algeria is French—the slogan of the diehards.

Casbah Silent
The great, ancient Casbah, where 80,000 Moslems live in squalor, was broodingly silent. Army troops built up new sandbag parapets around it.

Word was that Moslems in all cities long had been instructed by agents of the Algerian nationalists to avoid contact with Europeans when the cease-fire news came and to confine any demonstrations to their own quarters.

In Oran, Algeria's second-largest city, Europeans showed their defiance by crowding into the streets waving French flags. Automobiles honked out the five-beat rhythm of "Algeria Francaise."

There was talk that the secret army's call for a general strike Monday would be followed en masse by Europeans, paralyzing this sprawling North African territory.

Secret Army Seizes Arms

But many feared worse was to come from the secret army. Their uneasiness rose when it was learned that secret army commands with forged orders visited a military warehouse and drove off with a truck-trailer loaded with 3,000 rifles and machine guns and 210 bazookas.

The announcement of war on the Algerian nationalists and of an end of allegiance to the government of France was made by the secret army in a communique delivered to newsmen. It was issued in the name of the new "National Committee of French Resistance in Algeria," an underground parliament.

Rationing Of Food Starts In Cuba Today

HAVANA (AP)—A television panel member assured Cuban viewers Sunday the rationing of food due to start Monday will "benefit all in general, but especially housewives."

The panelist said the rationing plan would allow housewives to plan their menus in advance and eliminate the long, tedious lines so common up to now before Havana food stores.

Another panelist said rationing would "deal imperialism a blow" and expressed hope more food would be available soon.

Rationed items include rice and beans, basic items in the Cuban diet, also milk, eggs, beef, chicken and fish.

Ship Reports Bright Flash, Falling Lights

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—U.S. officials said Monday there are indications that a missing military charter transport plane with 107 persons aboard exploded in the air over the Western Pacific.

An announcement by the Joint Rescue Coordination Center on Guam said the Liberian tanker T. L. Linzen reported seeing "a bright light strong enough to light the ship's bridge at 1:30 a.m. Guam time Friday."

"This was followed by two falling red lights described as one dropping fast and one dropping slow," the announcement said. It added that, "A disappearing radar contact 17 miles from the ship was held for several seconds."

Bound For South Viet Nam

The Flying Tiger Line Super Constellation, bound for South Viet Nam and carrying 93 U.S. Army soldiers, 11 American crewmen and 3 South Vietnamese, vanished early Friday after leaving Guam en route to the Philippines.

A massive air and sea search has failed to turn up any solid trace of the plane.

Officials have given up all but the faintest hope of finding any survivors.

The center said the tanker searched the area without finding anything and then continued its course.

Followup Search Futile

An intensive followup search by planes and ships failed to produce any concrete supporting evidence of a plane explosion, the center said, but a spokesman added: "With the search in its fourth day, more credence is given to the possibility that the tanker may have seen the missing aircraft explode in flight."

The four-engine, propeller-driven plane left Guam a few minutes before 9 p.m. Thursday on the 1,600-mile hop to the Philippines en route from Travis Air Force Base in California to South Viet Nam.

About 80 minutes later it radioed a routine report to Guam, giving no hint of trouble.

At the time, the plane was about 270 miles west of Guam and headed for Clark Field, north of Manila. It never was heard from again.

First Lady Shops, Buys Two Saris

JAIPUR, India (AP)—Jacqueline Kennedy went shopping Sunday evening, but the famed bazaars of Jaipur had to come to her.

Merchants set up shop on the lawn of the governor's residence, where she is staying, and she came out to look over their wares.

She bought two saris, one red, and one green, excitedly exclaiming, "That's what I want." They cost a total of $25.

Mrs. Kennedy eyed an antique ruby necklace. The price was $6,500.

"Too costly," said President Kennedy's wife.

"Send the bill to Mr. Kennedy," suggested John Kenneth Galbraith, U.S. ambassador to India. The merchants promised to come back with their jewelry Monday.

Khrush, Molotov Vote At Same Polling Station

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev and former Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov cast ballots Sunday at the same Moscow polling station in nationwide elections for the Supreme Soviet. They did not meet.

Khrushchev and Molotov—old foes in Communist politics—appeared at polling station No. 52 at Moscow University a few blocks from the Kremlin. The premier, accompanied by his wife and granddaughter, Lena, drove up shortly after 11 a.m. He was in a jovial mood and exchanged quips with local election officials.

Molotov had appeared 30 minutes earlier. Almost unnoticed, he dropped his ballot in the voting box and quickly left. He is one of the Communist "outs"—berated for so-called anti-party activity—and not a candidate. Khrushchev's name was No. 13 to the poll.

Cuba Charges Guantanamo 'Provocation'

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba has handed an acid note of protest to the U.S. State Department accusing U.S. military personnel of "deliberate provocation" at Guantanamo Naval Station on the southeastern part of the island.

The protest claimed "stupidly hostile acts" offered further proof of the naval station is being used as a beachhead for a "large-scale armed attack the imperialist government of the United States is organizing against Cuba."

The protest, signed by Foreign Minister Raul Roa, was delivered through the Czech Embassy in Washington, which represents Cuban interests in America. There was no information here when it was delivered.

Detailed in the note are 12 alleged acts of provocation, including several charges that fire was opened from the base toward Cuban guards outside.

It accuses Americans of insulting Cuban guards and attempting to set fire to surrounding brushland by throwing ignited gasoline containers over the fence that runs around the base.

Recent reports from the base said large areas on the Cuban side of the fence had been cleared and that a cactus curtain had been planted.

"The Cuban government has ordered the Cuban soldiers to be patient and serene," Roa's protest said.

The note repeats a statement that Cuba will demand "at the proper time and, according to norms of international laws, the return of that portion of national territory usurped by the imperialist United States government."

Guantanamo's status often has been discussed in governmental statements and Castro has declared he will seek to oust the United States by legal means.

The base is a 45-square-mile enclave about 500 miles east of Havana. American troops have been stationed there under a lease since 1898.

Guatemala Blames Castros In Revolt

GUATEMALA (AP)—Government-controlled radio broadcasts charged Sunday that Castros and Communists had pushed Guatemala to the brink of civil war and appealed for an end to the student-led revolt that erupted last Tuesday.

Radio stations also broadcast repeated appeals for blood donors. Twenty-seven persons were reported wounded in scattered street fighting in this capital city Saturday.

The over-all casualty toll was placed at 20 dead and more than 530 wounded.

The army, under orders from Conservative President Miguel Ydigoras, warned it would take all necessary measures to put down the revolt.

The capital was relatively quiet Sunday but heavily armed troops patrolled major streets and guarded key buildings.

TWA Strike Called

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Flight Engineers union notified Trans World Airlines Sunday that it will call a strike against the carrier at 5 a.m. EST Wednesday.

Syria Reinforcing Border After Clash With Israeli Army

JERUSALEM (AP)—Syria was the most severe action since the reported clearing of villagers from the eastern coast of the Sea of Galilee Sunday and moving up reinforcements after Saturday's bloody battle with Israel's army.

Pledges of support for Syria came from Arab Jordan and even from President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic, which has feuded angrily with the Syrians since they broke from union with Cairo last year.

U.N. observers, who imposed a cease-fire after about six hours of furious fighting, began an investigation of Syria's charge of aggression lodged against Israel before the Mixed Armistice Commission.

The Foreign Affairs and Security Committee of Israel's Parliament met in special session to discuss the new crisis.

An Israeli army spokesman said the attacking columns had wiped out Syrian strongpoints at the east coast village of Northern Nuweib (Nuqib) from which artillery had been firing on Israeli fishermen in the Sea of Galilee. With that, he added, the task set for the Israeli army unit was considered accomplished.

While he said "all was quiet last night in the Sea of Galilee area," watchers on the western shore said heavy two-way traffic was observed all along the Syrian hill range of the east coast.

They reported Syrian army reinforcements were being brought up. They assumed the Syrians go in the other direction were villagers leaving in fear of further fighting.

Both sides made widely conflicting claims about the outcome of the battle, which engaged artillery and war planes in possibly

Rhee's Decision Pleases Junta

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean military junta expressed satisfaction Sunday at the decision by former President Syngman Rhee to postpone his return home from Hawaii.

"I think it was very fortunate that Dr. Rhee postponed his departure, apparently accepting our advice not to return home at this moment," said Lee Hu-rak, spokesman for the ruling junta.

"The people so far have not given any clear-cut judgment as to whether Dr. Rhee should be allowed to return. Now that he has issued a statement of apology to the people and publicly announced his desire to return home, it would provide a moment for the people to seriously consider the question."

Rhee was scheduled to leave Honolulu Saturday night, accompanied by his Austrian-born wife and adopted son, In-soo, but changed his mind at the last minute.

The son took off anyway, however, and told newsmen during a stopover in Tokyo that he will attempt to convince South Korean military leaders his 86-year-old stepfather wants to return to Seoul to die, and for no other reason.

Fabled Indian City Of Jaipur Salutes Jackie

JAIPUR, India (AP)—This pink city welcomed Jacqueline Kennedy Sunday with cheers, flower petals, a spot of red dye on her forehead for good luck, and saluting royal elephants.

Monday, she will ride an elephant from the private herd of the Maharaja of Jaipur, one of her hosts on the visit to this scenic city, said an official notice posting her program.

Flying in from Udaipur on her nine-day tour of India, the American First Lady wore a costume almost matching the stones that make ancient Jaipur one of the world's most beautiful cities.

Bejeweled women in the best saris of India—robes of exciting shades of pink, gold and turquoise—and hundreds of school children greeted her at the airport with flower petals. They waved orange, white and green cloths, the colors of India's flag. She was given a garland of lotus fruit and a bouquet.

Young women with rings in the left sides of their noses and bangles on their foreheads threw rice on the smiling visitor as a good luck symbol. One of them stepped forward and applied a spot of teeka, a red dye, to Mrs. Kennedy's forehead to insure more good fortune.

Others stood with decorated earthen water jugs, containing flowers, balanced on their heads—another gesture that the people of this princely state of Rajasthan reserve for high-ranking guests.

Women and children made a design of an elephant by spreading colored sawdust on the ground—a symbol of luxury.

A children's choir sang a song written especially for the welcome, telling Mrs. Kennedy "your fortune is that of a queen."

Musicians in a tent played Indian music.

In the hot Indian sun, thousands at the airport watched the bearded, turbaned governor of Rajasthan, Gurnarkh Nihal Singh, extend the official welcome. Then the 67-year-old governor, her host Sunday, escorted her to the waiting motorcade.

Business Block Wrecked, 31 Hurt In Spokane Blast

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A mysterious explosion, heard for 20 miles, demolished a North Side business block and rocked this city of nearly 200,000 Saturday night.

At least 31 persons were injured. There were no known dead. "It was like London during the blitz," said Fire Chief W. A. Dunham Sunday as he led workers dug through debris where a cafe, pizza parlor, supermarket, used furniture store and a vacant unit had stood.

"It still seems impossible that no one died in that mess. Of course we really won't be sure until we've got the debris cleared."

Of the 31 requiring treatment for injuries, eight were hospitalized but only one was listed in serious condition. She was Eileen Moseng, 17, a waitress who staggered from the cafe with her body and face bloody and clothing in shreds.

Long, Costly Conflict Will End At Noon

De Gaulle Praises Solution, Appeals For French Support

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP)—France announced Sunday night its long, costly and savage war with the Algerian nationalist rebels is at an end. But it faced the gloomy prospect of continued bitter struggle with European diehards sworn to keep Algeria French.

A cease-fire will take effect at noon Monday, ending a war that began 7 years, 4 months and 18 days ago.

The bloody fight between Algeria's nine million Moslems and one million Europeans had taken the lives of 17,250 French soldiers up to the start of 1962, the government said. Algerian rebel dead totaled 141,000.

But even as President Charles de Gaulle went on radio and television to urge the unqualified support of all Frenchmen to stop the bloodshed, the European Secret Army Organization in Algeria said it no longer regarded him as president and vowed a war to the finish.

Truck Convoy Attacked

Pirate radios broadcast fighting orders and a convoy of trucks carrying gendarmes was attacked by gunfire from windows in an Algiers suburb. The army said there were no casualties.

Moslems began building stone barricades on the approaches to their areas, apparently fearing European attacks. Army patrols said Moslem men were manning the barricades with clubs and steel bars.

France sent 30,000 armor-backed troops into Algiers, and held 30,000 more ready within a 60-mile radius.

The cease-fire agreement was announced by Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe at Evian, France, where French and Algerian teams had been struggling for 12 days with the final details of how to end the war.

Algerian Leaders Freed

A few hours after the announcement, France set free Mohammed Ben Bella, deputy premier of the provisional Algerian government and hero of the rebellion. He and four of his colleagues were flown to Switzerland and released after nearly six years of French imprisonment. In giving them their freedom, France lived up to an understanding that they would be released with the signing of a cease-fire agreement.

News of the agreement was welcomed—but with caution—in most world capitals aware of the struggle France and the Algerian nationalists still face with the secret army.

But the mood in the Arab world was one of jubilation as Algeria, last of the French North African territories, took a big step on the road toward independence already achieved by Tunisia and Morocco. Algeria is the last major Arab territory still under foreign control.

For President de Gaulle, the austere leader who has staked the remaining years of his government on an Algerian solution, the cease-fire agreement was a long stride toward victory.

The 71-year-old leader declared in his broadcast that an independent Algeria was in the best interest of France and that the agreement was the solution of good sense.

But the secret army, men De Gaulle denounced as "criminal adventurers," spoke only of defeat.

NAACP Official Reproved For Apology

By The Associated Press
The president of the Anne Arundel County branch of the NAACP has been reprimanded for sending a telegram to President Kennedy apologizing for a wire from the President received earlier from the state NAACP branches.

The state NAACP had urged the President to make certain appropriation of federal funds to rebuild storm-torn Ocean City, Md., be accompanied by a provision for desegregation of the resort community.

Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the state conference, made the plea in a telegram to the White House on March 9, the day a public accommodations bill was defeated in a special session of the legislature.

Many legislators blamed the defeat on the telegram, copies of which were distributed in the House of Delegates by opponents of the measure.

Afterward, the Anne Arundel County NAACP chairman, Dr. Theodore H. Johnson, apologized to the President for the state organization's wire.

At a special meeting in Baltimore Saturday, a five member committee drafted an official reprimand. Dr. Johnson was invited to the session, but did not attend, the state NAACP said in a statement Sunday.

The reprimand read in part:

"Dr. Johnson's action shows a grievous lack of knowledge of the NAACP's national policy consistently approved in national conventions of branches.

"Historically, the NAACP on the matter of federal aid—whether it be for schools, housing, disaster areas, or hospitals—has taken the position that the appropriation of federal funds be accompanied by a non-discrimination clause.

"Dr. Johnson could, therefore, speak only for himself; he could not speak by any other branch."

While the NAACP met in Baltimore, members of another integrationist group, the Civic Interest Group (CIG) of Maryland, picketed 17 restaurants in the city.

The demonstrations were peaceful and there were no arrests.

Dozen Persons Die In Maryland Fires

By The Associated Press
A 40-year-old man died when flames destroyed a Wicomico County home Sunday, increasing to 12 the number of persons killed in Maryland fires during the weekend.

Two separate fires Saturday, in Cumberland and suburban Baltimore, claimed 11 lives including 9 children. And in Baltimore Saturday night, a 7-year-old girl was burned severely when her clothing caught fire from a candle.

The victim of the Eastern Shore fire Sunday was identified by police as Roy A. Farlow of Pittsfield, who had been residing at the home of an aunt, Daisy Mae Farlow.

Farlow's body was found in the ruins of the home after the blaze was extinguished. His aunt escaped injury.

$93,068,140 of additional taxes and penalties was collected by the federal government in 1960 from cases involved in criminal prosecution.

Rep. King Asks Probe Of AMA Ad Against Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cecil R. King, D-Calif., asked a top advertising executive Sunday to investigate what King said are "lies and deception" by the American Medical Association (AMA) in advertising opposing King's health care bill.

The Californian is co-sponsor of an administration-backed bill which would provide hospital and nursing home care for older persons through Social Security.

King released a telegram he has sent to Frederick R. Gamble, president of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, in which he said:

"In a series of newspaper advertisements which has been appearing around the country, the AMA and affiliates have launched a coldly calculated campaign of dishonesty to discredit my bill.

"I appeal to you to investigate the content of this advertising which misleads the American public about the King-Anderson bill. The honorable profession of advertising should not serve the cause of dishonesty. . . .

"The AMA is spending millions of dollars to defeat my bill which will help millions of older people pay their hospital bills. That is the AMA's right. But I do object to lies, distortions, half-truths and misrepresentations being heaped upon my bill.

"The ads claim, for example, that older people would not have freedom to choose their own hospital or nursing home, but such hospitals would have to be chosen from them by 'a Washington official.'"

"This is not true, and the AMA knows it."

Hub City Man Killed In Crash

By The Associated Press
A 25-year-old Hagerstown man died Sunday of injuries received in a head-on automobile collision on U. S. 40, seven miles west of Frederick.

The victim was identified as John Eugene Young, State Police said he was attempting to pass another car when he collided with an automobile driven by William Cash Jr., of Pasadena, Md. Cash was not injured.

Young was pronounced dead at 7:30 a.m. Sunday, approximately seven hours after the accident occurred. His death raises the Maryland toll to 72 this year, as compared to 69 at this time in 1961.

Two persons died Friday in separate traffic accidents in the Washington area.

Mrs. Carmela Romero, 62, died in a Kensington hospital of injuries received in an accident in which she was run over by her own car.

And James Edward Walker, 11, Suitland, was struck by a car and killed Friday night as he was returning home from a Boy Scout meeting.

Basement Bookie Operation Smashed

BALTIMORE (AP)—An alleged $5,000-a-week bookmaking operation was unveiled by federal agents Saturday when they raided a home in suburban Ferndale.

Two men were arrested and charged with failure to purchase a $50 federal gambling tax stamp. They are Rosario J. Geppi, 37, Baltimore, and Paul F. Durkan, 51, Anne Arundel County.

About 14 agents participated in the raid, which took place about a half-mile from the Ferndale police station.

Agents of the Internal Revenue Service said the alleged operation was headquartered in the basement of the home. Bookmaking slips and a racing chart were found there.

The family who lived in the house said they did not know of the activities being carried on in the basement. The wife said the basement was rented through a mutual friend, who told them a storm-window salesman "needed a quiet place to conduct his business."

U. N. Bond Bill Passage Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted Sunday "progressive Republicans" may furnish the needed votes for Senate passage of President Kennedy's proposal to buy U.N. bonds.

The bond proposal, modified by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, may come before the Senate this week if it disposes of a pending effort to obtain approval of a constitutional amendment to abolish state poll taxes.

Administration leaders delayed a showdown on the U.N. matter in an obvious move to strengthen their opposition to a Republican substitute proposal.

As the bill now stands, the President would be authorized to buy $25 million in bonds and to match in additional purchases the amount subscribed by other nations up to $100-million over-all maximum for this country's investment.

Chairman Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, and Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., are seeking to substitute for this a direct three-year U.S. loan of $100 million to the United Nations at prevailing rates of interest.

Javits said on a television program taped for New York stations that any such loan would only postpone for a short time a big financial crisis for the United Nations growing out of its emergency operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

Probe Of 'Joint' U. S.-Red Radio Station Asked

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—A former U.S. official in Cambodia said Sunday he has asked Congress to investigate what he termed "joint construction" of a Cambodian radio station by Chinese Communists and Americans.

The American, Albion Ross, said the project was carried out for the most part while he was in Cambodia, despite his protest.

He said he mailed a letter Sunday to Rep. Porter Hardy, D-Va., head of the House Government Operations subcommittee investigating allegations of misuse of American aid funds in the Far Eastern kingdom.

Ross, a former foreign correspondent (New York Times), served from February 1959 until November 1961 as chief of the communications media division of the American aid mission in Cambodia. He now is doing journalistic work and writing a column for the English language newspaper Daily Star in Beirut.

In a statement to correspondents here, Ross said Americans and Chinese Communists found themselves working on the same project in the following manner:

The U.S. government had agreed to provide and install equipment for two radio studios in a Cambodian government building in the capital city of Phnom Penh.

In late May 1960 it became clear that the Cambodian government had accepted from Peiping "a new radio station complete with a central studios building, full equipment and three new transmitters."

Two American studios were to be part of the new radio Cambodia station—which Ross said would be "80 per cent or more Chinese Communist."

At this "I put in my request that American aid withdraw from the project, which was primarily Communist."

"Nevertheless," he continued, "work on the Chinese Communist portion of the radio station and the American aid portion began in early July 1960 on the same day . . . the Chinese Communists were more efficient. They completed the main portion of their task in the same time as the Americans with innumerable delays completed installation of their two subsidiary studios."

Economic Literacy Aid Program Urged By CED

WASHINGTON (AP)—A many-sided program to expand and improve the teaching of economics from the first grade through the twelfth was proposed Sunday by the Committee for Economic Development.

The privately supported research organization of business men said that measures to "reduce economic illiteracy in the United States must become an urgent national priority."

Along with its own statement the CED issued:

1. A study by an independent task force of educators and economists suggesting teaching goals which are considered to be attainable in elementary and high schools and which would provide "the minimum economic understanding essential to citizenship."

2. A compact selection of recommended study materials, us from accepting it. It is in the name of France that we reject it."

"I give orders to our forces to harass enemy positions in the big cities of Algeria," Salan commanded. "I give the order to our comrades in the armed forces, Moslem and European, to join us in the interior of the country to win it back immediately to the only legal government—that of France."

When the cease-fire becomes effective a new provisional government composed of four Moslem nationalists, four Algerian Europeans and four nonaligned Moslems—will govern Algeria from three to six months during the transitional period until independence.

The new government will function with a French high commissioner, who still will have charge of foreign affairs and defense policy. De Gaulle praised the army but said the real credit went to the French Republic itself, which had known how to revamp its institutions so as to provide stability instead of the repeated crises of the past.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Four years ago my husband became attached to an attractive and lively student in his high school class. She was 35 years his junior. He was friendly with a great many students but this relationship was different. The other students often came to our home. This girl never did.

My husband died suddenly three weeks ago. It was my unpleasant duty to go to the school and remove the personal belongings from his desk. What I found left me dumbfounded and heartbroken.

In his appointment book he had recorded light-hearted details of their meetings. They met almost daily for four years. She attended a local college after her high school graduation. I found snapshots of them picnicking, boating and fishing. There were no snapshots of me, or even of his own children—not even in his fillfold.

I don't need advice, Ann—what I need is strength. I'm writing this letter as a warning to others who may be leading a double life. In heaven's name, don't leave any evidence around! You never know what tomorrow may have in store for you.—NUMB

DEAR FRIEND: While the evidence may be convincing, it is still circumstantial. There is an outside chance that your husband's relationship with this student was a neurotic but still innocent father-daughter attachment. Please give him the benefit of the doubt since he is not here to defend himself.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please say something in your column about those hideous things called suspenders. My husband loves them, but I think they are the ugliest contraptions ever invented.

Last year I bought him two beautiful belts which are still in gift boxes. When I remind him he says, "I know. I see them every day."

Frequently we go to the homes of friends. If it's an informal party the men remove their coats and I die of embarrassment. A few other husbands wear suspenders and their wives don't like it either.

Don't you feel that a wife has the right to insist that her husband wear a belt if it means so much to her? I've considered throwing out his suspenders which would leave him no choice. Do I have your O.K.?

—BOBO BRUMMEL

DEAR BOBO: Don't toss out your husband's dearly beloved suspenders. If he dislikes belts he may choose to go without either and then you could be in for even greater embarrassment.

Most men decide on the basis of comfort—and this is one decision no woman can make for her man.

Men's fashion experts claim suspenders do a better job of keeping the trousers up. One expert told me point-blank that a meticulous dresser would never use a belt. Another said "I wear both."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Two years ago I was engaged to marry a fine young man. He suffered a complete mental breakdown a few months before the wedding so we postponed everything.

We decided not to marry until we were both sure of his stability. He'd seem fine for a while, then he'd go into a sudden rage, accuse me of far-out things and become violent. Last week he phoned to say he never wanted to see me again and demanded that I return his diamond ring.

Is his shame and guilt responsible for his rejecting me? Is this known as "projection" or "transference?" His doctor will tell me nothing.

Please give me the information I need.—HAZEL

DEAR HAZEL: I am not about to psychoanalyze your boy friend through the mail. My advice to you is return the ring (although it is legally yours) and stop playing doctor. If he has one psychiatrist taking care of him, that's plenty.

If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ON TELEVISION PROGRAM—The third in a series of television programs sponsored by the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce will be telecast today at 9 p.m. on Potomac Valley Television's Channel 6. Participating in the program will be, left to right, Elizabeth Patterson and James Goebel, students at Beall High School; Pat Fair and Carole Clark, of Mt. Savage High School; who are shown with William Fearer, president of the Frostburg Chapter of the Jaycees. "The Structure of the American Way of Life" is the topic of tonight's program.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Organize Your Time For Added Leisure

Wouldn't you like to accomplish some of your tasks in double-quick time? A good aid for organizing your own mind and activities is to make lists of things you wish to do, or to remember. A list is a memory prod that often makes a task seem less difficult.

One Powers Girl starts her Saturday housecleaning over a second cup of coffee; she jots down a list of chores in order of their importance and ticks them off in that order. Another girl mentioned just this morning that she has completed redecorating her apartment—a job she couldn't seem to tackle until a listing of things to do put the whole project in focus.

In addition to the usual birthday and grocery lists, you might list all the out-of-season clothes you've put away. Then you'll know where to look for them when the weather changes again. This will help your spring wardrobe planning . . . you won't have to dig through trunks and boxes to see what's left from this year.

that's still wearable, and what accessories you'll need to supplement your wardrobe.

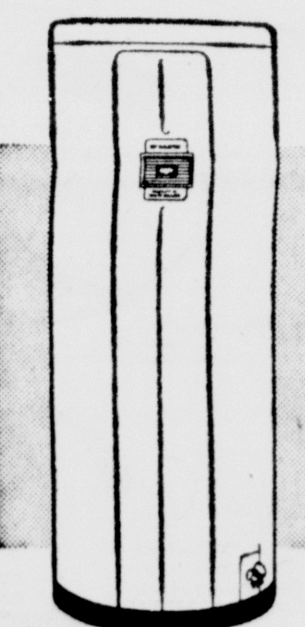

Of course, you can stretch this idea to absurdity. If you spend more time listing than doing, the result is not sense but nonsense. You'll gain in savings of time and effort only if your reminder is a crutch, not a cast.

Learn to make things easier for yourself, though, in such small ways as this, and you'll become less harried, more organized — and easier to get along with. You'll find time for the things you want to do because you aren't wasting so many minutes putting off the things you have to do.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Your partner has opened with one spade and you hold:
♠ J 10 4 3 ♥ Q 10 6 ♦ K 8 4 ♣ 7 5 4
What is your response?
A. — One no trump. While this hand ostensibly contains seven points in support of spades, one point must be subtracted for even distribution when contemplating a raise. You therefore have no choice but to respond with one no trump.
Q. 2—Your partner has opened with one no trump and you hold:
♠ A 4 3 ♥ Q J 7 ♦ J 4 3 2 ♠ A Q 6
What is your response?
A. — Three no trump. You have a point count of 14 which added to partner's maximum of 18 would at best reach a total of 32, not quite enough for slam.
Q. 3—As South you hold:
♠ Q 7 ♥ A 9 6 5 3 2 ♦ K 9 ♠ A 7 5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass ? Pass
What do you bid now?
A. — With this powerful holding, you are concerned merely with the question of whether the hand should reach six or seven. You have better than an opening bid, facing partner who has opened the bidding and jumped. You may inquire for aces and kings by a bid of four no trump or, if you prefer the direct method, bid five clubs, showing the ace, and await partner's reactions.
Q. 4—As South you hold:
♠ K J 7 ♥ K Q 6 ♦ 10 7 4 ♠ A J 6 3
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass
1 NT Pass 2 ♠ Pass
2 NT Pass 3 ♠ Pass
What do you bid now?
A. — Despite the fact that your hand is evenly balanced, and that all suits are safely accounted for, you should not persist further with your no trump ideas. Partner has described a hand that contains six diamonds and five spades and is, therefore, unsuitable for no trump play. You have splendid support for a five card spade suit and should raise to four.
Q. 5—As South you hold:
♥ K J 4 3 ♦ Q 10 9 5 3 ♠ A 10 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♦ 1 ♠
What do you bid now?
A. — Two spades. This hand has definite slam possibilities. Unless you make this strong bid, you will find it difficult to persuade partner of your enormous strength, for he will labor constantly under the impression created by your previous pass.
Q. 6—Partner opens with one heart and you hold:
♠ K 10 7 6 ♦ A J 10 6 ♣ Q 9 7 6 3
What is your response?
A. — Two clubs. It would be poor tactics to respond with one spade for the sake of keeping the bidding low. Actually, it would have just the opposite effect. Partner will probably say two hearts, in which case you have to bid three of some suit. If you respond with two clubs, and partner says two hearts, you are in position to make the economical bid of two spades, with the added advantage of informing partner that you have five clubs and four spades.
Q. 7—As South you hold:
♠ Q 7 5 ♥ K 4 ♦ A J 10 6 3 2 ♣ 9 3
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ 2 ♦ Pass 2 NT
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A. — Partner's bid of two no trump is an aggressive step inasmuch as he was not invited to participate in the bidding. Your overall is of a type that will produce a considerable number of tricks at no trump and a raise to three is recommended.
Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠ K 7 6 ♥ K 9 4 2 ♦ A K ♣ Q J 9 4
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A. — A direct jump to three no trump is our preference. This describes a hand, which is about the equal of an opening one no trump bid.

Trial Slated TodayIn Entry Case

Ernest L. Collins, 19, of Hancock, will be tried today at 10 a. m. in Allegany County Circuit Court by Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey on a charge of breaking and entering.

Collins, who has been charged with breaking and entering a number of summer cottages in the Flintstone and Little Orleans areas last year, was returned here Thursday from McConnellsburg, Pa., where he recently completed a jail sentence.

Canada's population is over the 17 million mark.

Celebrator Jailed

LONDON (AP)—Laborer Peter Fairley appeared in court three days running for being drunk after winning $14,000 on a football pool. Magistrate Frank Powell sent him off to jail for one month for quiet reflection on what to do with his money.

Modern methods of production, harvesting, processing, storage, and transportation now provide farm-fresh foods at all times.

Woman Cannot Collect For Calf Which Died

Associate Judge W. Earle Cobey ruled in an appeal he heard in Allegany County Circuit Court that a Frostburg area woman who failed to take advantage of the safeguards provided when she purchased a calf at a Cumberland Stock Yard auction is not entitled to her money back because the cow died 30 days after the sale.

Frostburg Magistrate Edward P. Flanagan had awarded Julia Hitchins, RFD, Frostburg, a $38.06 verdict last August 11. That was the amount she had paid for the calf at auction last June 6. The calf refused to eat, became ill and died 30 days later. The Stock Yard, through Attorney Thomas Lohr Richards, appealed the magistrate's decision.

"It should be noted that the plaintiff had opportunity to inspect the calf and rescind the sale within a reasonable time but took no steps in this regard," Judge Cobey wrote in his brief opinion.

After the sale was completed, the auctioneer called her attention to the fact that the calf was a dwarf and would not grow any larger. The stock yard at Triple Lakes has a policy, the judge noted, that a dissatisfied purchaser has on hour after the sale to notify the auctioneer. Then the calf would have been sold to someone else.

Where Four Died In Fire

This is the home in Essex, near Baltimore, in which Kenneth William Wilt, 24, formerly of Westernport, and his three children burned to death Saturday. Mrs. Patricia Wilt, his 24-year-old

Western Maryland Has Stake In Foreign Trade

Western Maryland's stake in foreign trade is highlighted in the first of a series of "Export Origin Studies" compiled by the U. S. Department of Commerce and distributed by the Committee for a National Trade Policy.

The committee, which describes itself as a bipartisan, privately financed organization, points out that Maryland's share of America's expanding foreign trade brings almost $244 million into the state every year, about $217 million of it from manufactured exports.

Baltimore ranks second among the nation's ports, moving over a million dollars' worth of cargoes every year.

Biggest exporters among the state's highly diversified industries were the primary metals industry, chemicals, foods, non-electrical machinery, stone, clay and glass, fabricated metals, transportation equipment, rubber and plastics, instruments, textiles and petroleum.

Among representative Western Maryland exporting manufacturers listed in the report are Allegheny Instrument Company, Celanese Fibers Company, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, and Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

"The Celanese Corporation of America of Cumberland is the nation's leading domestic producer of filament yarn and staple fiber made from cellulosic acetate," the report says.

"This company, which is illustrative of exporting establishments in the industry, also manufactures cellulosic filament yarn by the viscose process and produces cellulosic acetate, cellulosic propionate, plastics, polyethylene, Marcol polyester resins, and organic chemicals.

"Principal exports from the Cumberland establishment are synthetic fibers, such as acetate and filament yarns, which accounted for 60 per cent of Celanese Corporation's total sales in 1960."

Calling the local Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant an example of Maryland's stone, clay and glass products industry, the report says, "This company is one of the two largest domestic manufacturers of plate glass... of which an important portion is exported from the Cumberland establishment."

After briefly discussing the exports of Kelly-Springfield the report says, "The rubber and plastics products industry's important role in its production of rubber and plastics products. Among the most important are natural

Magazine Features Items Of Interest

Two items of area interest are included in the current issue of the Maryland Municipal News. The issue includes a photograph and brief biography of Joseph E. James, Mayor of Frostburg, who is a Council Member at large of the League.

The issue also notes that Cumberland has entered into a contract with the planning firm of Blair Associates, Washington, for the preparation of a master plan.

The bodies of the victims will be at the Boal Funeral Home today from 7 to 9 p.m. and tomorrow from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m., and will be taken to the church tomorrow at 11 a.m.

Full military rites will be accorded at the graveside of Mr. Wilt by Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport.

Tawes, Cohorts

(Continued from Page 12) marks the beginning of an all-out drive that will continue throughout the state until May 15.

In addition to governor, the voters then will nominate candidates for U.S. Senate, comptroller, attorney general, eight U.S. representatives, including one at large, an entire legislature, judges and county officials.

Both Tawes and Mahoney have full slates for the statewide nominations.

Accompanying Tawes will be candidates Daniel B. Brewster for U.S. senator, Thomas B. Finan for attorney general, Louis L. Goldstein for comptroller, and Perry O. Wilkinson for congressman-at-large.

The Mahoney slate includes Blair Lee III for U.S. Senate, Samuel Barrick for attorney general, Marshall Levin for comptroller and Carlton R. Sickles for congressman-at-large.

There are five other Democratic candidates for governor, three for the Senate, and one for congressman-at-large. All are running independently.

The Republicans do not have a statewide ticket.

Firemen, Auxiliary Will Meet Tonight

Livestock Show Is Dedicated To Clyde Bonar

Burlington Farmer Will Be Honored

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—The 1962 Little Eastern National Livestock Show, to be held at the West Virginia University Animal Husbandry Farm here on April 14, will be dedicated to Clyde Bonar, a Mineral County farmer from Burlington.

Mr. Bonar's selection was announced last night by Robert Adamson, president of the WVU Block and Bridle Club.

The club president said that the Block and Bridle Club sponsors the Little Eastern Show and dedicates it each year to a West Virginian who has made significant contributions to the state's agriculture. Mr. Bonar, who was graduated from West Virginia University in 1924, operates a 1,600-acre livestock farm in Mineral County. A 200-cow purebred Angus herd is kept on this Burlington farm along with some 150 head of breeding ewes.

Mr. Adamson reported that Mr. Bonar's selection marks one of the few times that a former president of the Block and Bridle Club has been so honored. The Burlington farmer is known for his fine cattle in livestock circles throughout the nation and is considered one of the outstanding agricultural leaders in West Virginia. Three of his children, two sons and a daughter, also are graduates of WVU.

Students will show a total of 32 animals in the six showing competitions that make up the fitting and showing contest. There will be a class of five Duroc hogs, a class of eight Hampshire sheep, a class of nine Angus steers and one of 10 Hereford steers. The top showman in the two beef classes will compete to see who becomes the winning beef showman to enter the final class, where he will compete with the sheep and swine winners for the title of grand champion fitter and showman of 1962.

Fitting and showing events will be judged by Philip Phar, assistant extension animal husbandman, and Vernon Tacy, county agricultural agent of Harrison County.

Debate Planned On West Va. Liquor Proposal

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)—Leading opponents and proponents of liquor-by-the-drink in West Virginia will meet here in a public debate April 11, sponsored by the Wheeling Jaycees.

Del. Chester R. Hubbard, R-Ohio, will speak in support of an amendment permitting over-the-bar whisky sales in the state to be voted upon in the November election. The opposing view will be presented by the Rev. L. E. Crowson, Logan, chairman of the West Virginia Citizens Committee for Defeat of Liquor Amendment.

Each speaker will be given 15 minutes to present his delivery before the start of a 30-minute question and answer period.

Confirmation Class Will Start April 1

LONACONING — Rev. Leslie E. Schwindt, vicar of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, has set April 1 as the first class of confirmation instruction, for young people and adults.

Rev. Noble C. Powell, bishop, will visit St. Peter's Church, on Sunday, June 17, at 10 a. m. to administer confirmation.

This Trinity Sunday on June 17 has been announced as the day the Advisory Board has set for the blessing of the new Bishop Murray Memorial Parish House. June 17 will begin a week's festivities in which the Lonaconing Episcopal church invites the community to join in its celebration for the new building achieved this year.

Bishop To Visit Parsons April 11

PARSONS, W. Va. — Bishop Fred Holloway of the West Virginia Conference of Methodist churches will visit St. John's Church here on April 11.

Bishop Holloway and Rev. Reese Burns, D.D., district superintendent, and their wives will attend a service at St. John's at 11 a. m. April 11 at which they will serve Communion to the ministers of the district and their wives.

The Bishop also will speak at First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. the same day. All members of the Methodist churches are urged to attend.

Pennsylvania Parishes Plan Three Missions

First Under Way At MacDonaldton

WEST SALISBURY, Pa.—Rev. Robert J. McCoy, pastor of three Roman Catholic parishes in this area, has arranged a series of three one-week missions to be held in the parishes which he serves.

Rev. Wilfrid A. Smith, O. Carm., pastor of St. John the Baptist Parish, New Baltimore, Pa., is conducting the missions.

The following schedule will apply to all three parishes: Opening Mass on Sunday morning; Formal opening of the Mission on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock; Week-day morning Masses at 5:30 o'clock; Formal closing of the Missions will be on the following Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"A Mission consists of a course of sermons on the importance of salvation; on sin as the obstacle of salvation; on the great truths of eternity; on particular virtues; the beauty of virtues; the mercy of God; and the love of God for souls," Father McCoy said.

The first Mission opened at St. Gregory's Church, MacDonaldton, Pa., yesterday and will close on Sunday afternoon, March 25.

The second Mission will open at Mt. Michael's Church, West Salisbury, Pa., at the 10:30 o'clock Mass on Sunday, April 1; and it will close on Sunday afternoon April 8.

The third Mission will open at St. Mary's Church, Pocahontas, Pa., at the 10:30 o'clock Mass on Sunday, April 8; and will close on Sunday afternoon, April 15.

All adults, both men and women, and all high school students from the ninth grade on are to attend all of the various exercises and devotions. Special afternoon sessions will be announced for the grade school children.

At the closing ceremonies of each Mission, special blessings will be imparted as follows: (1) The Apostolic or Papal Blessing will be given to all who have made the Mission; (2) A Special Blessing will be given to all babies — infants and up to the age of six; (3) A Special Blessing for all automobiles and all drivers present will be given.

The conductor of the Missions, Father Wilfrid, is a native of Milwaukee, Wis. He was reared in St. Theresa's Parish, Buffalo, N. Y., where he attended the parochial school there. In 1921 he enrolled in the Mount Carmel Preparatory School, Niagara Falls, Canada. Three years later he received the habit of the Carmelite Fathers. Five years later he pronounced his final vows with the Carmelite Order. Father Wilfrid was ordained on May 22, 1932, by Bishop Bernard Sheil, Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Chicago, in Quigley Seminary Chapel.

The week of March 25, Father Wilfrid will be giving a Mission at Saints Philip and James Parish, Meyersdale, Pa., where Rev. James S. Kirkpatrick is pastor. Father Kirkpatrick announced that a similar schedule will be followed in his parish.

Strong Medicine
For Railroads

Rail unions plainly are hurting in the wake of a report on work rules by the Presidential Railroad Commission. The commission's recommendation — that 30,000 to 45,000 jobs be eliminated — certainly gives the appearance of supporting charges by rail management that the industry abounds in featherbedding. Rail unions have been denying this allegation since the early 1950s when the companies began applying real pressure for changes.

Under terms of a three-year moratorium signed in 1956 following a rail strike threat, work rule changes could not be put on the table by either management or the rail brotherhoods until November 1, 1959. When that time limit ran out, the battle still was not joined because both sides agreed to submit the matter to a commission for issuance of non-binding recommendations. For 16 more months the work rules dispute lay relatively quiescent while the 15-man commission wrestled out its findings.

Now that the commission has reported, management and labor are bound by their agreements to negotiate over the recommendations. The unions have repudiated the report, but Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg is said to be applying pressure by urging union and management officials to settle their differences on the basis of the document. Several of the unions have been given strike authority from rank-and-filers before re-entering the negotiations.

President Kennedy is criticized in some quarters for steering clear of taking any stand on what the report contained. The President has said only that the report would be "useful" in the approaching negotiations. It should be noted, however, that the commission originally was created by President Eisenhower and was merely continued in being by his successor. Kennedy also was mindful, no doubt, that the recommendations have ramifications that extend far beyond the railroad industry. Other labor unions felt a chill wind generated by the group's statement that "carriers should have an unlimited right to introduce technological change."

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Supreme Court

I have a rather remarkable letter from a reader in Phoenix, Arizona, which explains to me why the teaching of civics should be restored to the public schools. The writer says:

"It is my belief that the duty of the Supreme Court, when a case comes before it, to decide it on the basis of law or whether the constitution has been violated. That they should be able lawyers, know the law or where to find it, and be thoroughly familiar with the constitution. They should not be politicians."

"Frequently cases are decided on a five to four basis. One side will claim some law or the constitution has been violated. How can that be possible? If they all know what the constitution says, how can a decision be other than unanimous, one way or the other."

The questions raised here are only difficult to answer because the writer apparently cannot envisage the Supreme Court, which consists of nine men appointed for life, all of whom are lawyers and know the Constitution. But the Constitution, like the Ten Commandments, is a tightly drawn document which from time to time requires interpretation.

For instance, we have moved into a wholly new relationship between government and production arising out of the fact that many industries are forced to unite to produce the kind of goods that the government buys such as missiles, rockets, satellites, etc. These cannot be made by small enterprises or by a single company. Some 2000 American industries played a role in the Manhattan Project which produced the atom bomb. The application of the anti-trust laws to production will have to be re-interpreted to meet these conditions. In fact, both large and small industries are now essential — but the big ones are generally enormous.

Or to give another example: villages and even small towns are being deserted and more and more people are moving into large cities. The urbanization of our population has raised many questions of inter-racial relations in a country where there are about 19,000,000 Negroes, many of whom have in recent years left farms and plantations and moved to large cities; some of whom have fought in two wars abroad; others of whom have been to college. They have raised questions as to their rights under the Constitution which the Supreme Court has to hear.

A five to four decision is in no manner a violation of propriety; it simply means that nine trained lawyers of distinction have reached different conclusions in their interpretation of the identical clause in the Constitution as applied to a current situation brought before them. The Supreme Court initiates nothing. It does not act on a case unless it comes up to it from a lower court. The Supreme Court reviews decisions; it does not try cases. Naturally, each justice applies his own judgement to a problem; otherwise he would not perform any useful service.

This kind of correspondence is not unusual these days. I receive quite a few letters which attack the Supreme Court, the way the Communists used to. The attack is generally on Chief Justice Earl Warren who is being held responsible for the integration decision, although nine justices were responsible for it. Again, it needs to be pointed out that the Supreme Court did not initiate this case; that it comes from the lower courts, as all cases must, on appeal.

The attack on political judges is usually an attack on Chief Justice Warren, although Chief Justice Taft and Chief Justice Hughes were politicians of enormous dimensions before they found their places on the bench. Taft had been President; Hughes had been Governor of New York State and a candidate for President. Justice Hugo Black was a Senator and had, in his younger years, been a member of the Ku Klux Klan; yet today he is regarded as the most liberal judge on the bench. Justice Felix Frankfurter was a professor and was regarded as a radical; today he is probably the most correctly oriented and conservative member of the Court.

In a word, my correspondent ought to take a trip to Washington to see the Supreme Court at work and then he would understand what a magnificent institution it has been throughout our history. And he ought to read a good biography of Chief Justice John Marshall to learn how the Court came to be what it is.

Is This The Final Test Of Nerves At Berlin?

WASHINGTON

By Joseph Alsop

The odds are about even that we are now witnessing the opening of the final test of nerves at Berlin. Whether this is really the case, no one can possibly say who is not privy to the Kremlin's inmost secrets. The Soviets, unhappily, are in a position to turn the Berlin crisis on and off like a water tap. One can only say there are a good many reasons for suspecting that they are getting ready to turn the crisis on, full blast.

To begin with, the mysterious internal argument that has been agitating Moscow seems to have ended at the meeting of the Soviet Central Committee last week. The specific decision the committee took was to make no serious investment to remedy the grave plight of Soviet agriculture, because all available resources were needed for investment in greater and greater Soviet military power.

This decision to put guns before butter, taken at a time of uncomfortable food shortages, plainly implies that a majority of the Soviet leaders still favor a "hard" policy. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other policy-makers have long believed that the ultimate Soviet decisions about Berlin and other foreign problems would be determined by the more basic Soviet decision about the direction of their own internal development. On this reasoning, rougher Soviet tactics at Berlin ought to be the sequel of the Central Committee meeting.

The sequel has duly appeared, in the form of severely intensified pressure on the air corridors leading to Berlin. Early in February, the Kremlin tried buzzing Allied aircraft with fighter planes, to see whether the Western pilots could be frightened out of the air corridors. This experiment having failed, more drastic expedients have now been used.

Packages of chaff—small pieces of metal designed to confuse airplanes' radar sets — have been scattered in the corridors. There are some indications that other methods of radar-jamming have also been used. Concurrently, experiments have been made with saturation of the corridors, by scheduling flights of Soviet aircraft, in effect, to collide with already-scheduled Western flights.

By really intensive use of these and other methods, the Soviets may well be able to establish something like a blockade of the air corridors. Their planners are evidently long-headed people. No air blockade would be feasible if Allied aircraft were flying to Berlin at altitudes above the 10,000-foot mark but the Soviets, no doubt with an eventual blockade in mind, have always furiously insisted that the permitted corridors did not extend above 10,000 feet.

Early in the Berlin crisis, President Eisenhower all but broke through the 10,000-foot limitation. Impassioned British pleas caused Eisenhower to change his mind; but he did so with the specific, public reservation that the Western allies had the right to fly above 10,000 feet, even if they were not doing so. Supposing, then, that the Soviets do not turn many indications that he is a high ranking officer in the Soviet armed forces.

Official Washington still doesn't know what to make of Powers. Congressmen applauded the exchange because it freed an American, but there's a feeling that the Russians got the better of the bargain. Legislators are getting ready to obtain the whole story from him, as his secret interrogation by Central Intelligence Agency operatives has now been completed.

Just recently, he appeared at a banquet in Phoenix, Ariz. It was of a political nature, but Day pushed politics aside in favor of plumping for his department.

"I came to town to sell stamps —Arizona statehood stamps," he said. "At a bargain price of four cents before the price goes up to five cents. But now business hours are over . . ."

While the United States has no regrets about the exchange, there is much evidence that the Russians got the better of the swap from the standpoint of cold realism. Abel is considered by U.S. intelligence to be a top—and perhaps THE top—Russian spy. There is little doubt that Abel is not his real name, and there are ointments and tablets are not always effective. Furthermore, the attitude that "if a little is good, more is better," has encouraged many people to use stronger and stronger products when the "ringworm" fails to respond. The result is overtreatment dermatitis, which may be worse than the original condition.

Allergy to shoes produces a rash that looks somewhat like a fungal infection and erythrasma. The skin of the feet and toes is red, burns, blisters, and smells. The individual is sensitive to one of the dozen or more chemicals or plastics used in the manufacture of modern footwear.

All the ointments in the world will not help unless the cause is eliminated. If changing shoes fails to cure the dermatitis, skin tests may be necessary, utilizing the products employed in making shoes.

Many are allergic to the rubber thermoplastic box toe materials frequently used in the less expensive oxford type of shoe. In others, the culprit is rubber cement, dyes, nickel in the eyelets, or chromates in the leather. A dramatic cure takes place within a few days after the offender is eliminated.

TOMORROW: Frontal sinus infection.

BEREAVED DOG OWNER

'Liberal' Can't Get Ticket For
Rally Of Ultra-Right Wingers

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Rev. Billy James Hargis, ultra leader of the ultra right wing, descended on the nation's capital this week for a big rally of ultras at the Washington Hotel. Arrangements for the meeting were cloaked in semi-mystery.

Congressman John Rousselot, the California John Birch, appeared to be acting as advance arranger for the ultras. When a caller asked him for a ticket, Rousselot countered:

"Are you a conservative?"

"Yes," was the reply.

"What do you think of the John Birch Society?" the Congressman demanded.

"I don't agree with its criticism of Eisenhower."

"You sound like a liberal," concluded the Congressman. "I don't think you can get a ticket."

From other sources, it was learned that approximately 1,000 right-wing organizations had been invited to send representatives to the Washington rally, and that Hargis and Rousselot are huddling in advance to chart future strategy for the right wing.

Hargis-Go-Round

Rev. Hargis is leader of the "Christian Crusade" and of "We The People," which together have a gross intake of around $1,000,000 a year, much of it from H. L. Hunt and other wealthy oilmen. Hargis travels in a streamlined, air-conditioned bus with two bedrooms, two baths . . . He helped author the Air Force training manual which informed U. S.

troops that American churches are infiltrated with Communist fellow travelers . . . According to Hargis, the brother-of-man idea is "hogwash." He believes, along with most right-wingers, that the danger of Communism is internal, and that to "root out Communism you have to clean up liberalism in government and religion." Hargis wants to impeach Chief Justice Earl Warren. According to the U. S. Senate Committee on Elections, Hargis was the author of "scurrilous and defamatory literature" attempting to smear Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver as Reds in the 1956 election . . . It costs $75,000 a month just to open our doors down in Tulsa," says the Rev. Billy Hargis.

Hargis Needs $$$

A letter trimmed in deep black and entitled "In Memoriam," has been sent by Rev. Billy Hargis to all his supporters this week. He's mourning the death of five radio stations which have taken him off the air.

"With a sad heart I must write this letter to my friends to inform you of a great loss," he said. "Five of our most important radio stations canceled our daily broadcasts this week because we did not have the money to pay our account."

He then listed stations in Denver, Newton-Wichita, Kans., Columbus, Neb., Vicksburg, Leavenworth-Kansas City.

"It is apparent to me that some of these stations are 'running scared,'" continued the Reverend Billy. "They are afraid of their local press and liberal clergy."

"Oh my dear friends," he implored, "we need help. We need help right now . . . We need gifts of $1.00 or more . . . Will you send that amount if you can . . . I beg 100 per cent response to this appeal from my soul . . . My Burdened soul."

Jimmy Hoffa Serves

Ex-Army Attorney General Bill Rogers, as efficient as he is handsome, suffered a setback in the efficiency of dodging a process server the other day.

After ducking Special Deputy Hugh Duffy for more than two weeks, Rogers finally got caught.

Duffy had a little piece of paper in his hand ordering the ex-Army Attorney General to go to Orlando, Fla., and testify in the trial of James R. Hoffa. Once Duffy tried to hand the subpoena and $175 expense money to Mrs. Rogers. She kicked both out the door as if they were radioactive.

Finally Duffy caught the ex-Army Attorney General on the street and handed him the unwelcome paper. Rogers protested that it wasn't official because there was no expense money for the trip to Florida. Duffy then handed him $175.

Carefully, Rogers counted it, said he would give it to charity, then complained that a former head of the Justice Department should be treated with more courtesy.

"I've just served three other Cabinet members, including the present head of the Justice Department," said Duffy.

Later that night, two FBI men, Charles Czoka and Carl Bennett, routed Duffy out of bed to question him about allegedly misrepresenting himself when he served the ex-Army Attorney General.

"Dormitory Ballads"

Congressman William Bray of Indiana, a decorated veteran of World War II, was cross-examining the Air Force about its new housing facilities.

"I understand that barracks are now called dormitories by the Air Force," he told Col. W. H. Parkhill of the AF Construction Branch. "Is that right?"

"Yes, sir," replied Parkhill.

"As an old soldier, I am grieved to hear about this," said Bray. "Barracks is a long-honored military term that has been celebrated in song and verse. It bespeaks bravery and patriotism. To most Americans it is reminiscent of taps and reveille. On the other hand we associate dormitory with colleges, house mothers, and party raids."

"Yes, sir," replied Parkhill.

"I shudder to think what Rudyard Kipling would have to say were he alive today," continued the GOP Congressman from Indiana. "I shudder to think about his reaction if somebody tried to change the name of his rugged Barracks Ballads to Dormitory Ballads."

JERUSALEM, Jordan. — The sun came out late in the morning. The slate clouds, by magic, were transmuted to puffed vanilla. We walked through St. Stephen's Gate—Kelly and I—and on up the narrow streets of the walled city. Jesus was here. Jesus is here.

The Arabs walked behind their tiny donkeys. The women, wearing long white veils, carried water urns on their heads. Little ones, with shy smiles, skipped on the cobbles of the Via Dolorosa. Once, He carried a cross on this road. It was here, at the top of the hill, that Pontius Pilate gave Jesus to the mob, saying: "Behold the man!"

We walked this street, ashamed of our feet. Once, when He walked it, he had offered love and salvation to all. We had nothing to offer but curiosity. At the hill called Golgotha, where He died, there is a church called The Holy Sepulchre.

It is a sagging thing of mongrelized architecture, built and torn down and rebuilt and destroyed by those who adored Him and those who despised Him. Few are gifted to comprehend a love which embraces all men and excludes none.

They have hidden the scene of His devotion under a dark apology of a church which has timbers shoring the walls. Inside, six separate Christian sects have divided the church among them as Roman soldiers once divided His garments. They dispute who has exclusive rights to the place where He died, where they anointed Him, where they laid Him to rest behind a rolling stone, where the cracks of the earthquake show in the rocks.

The Church of the Holy Sepulchre cannot be rebuilt because the Christians cannot agree on anything. The holiest place in all Christendom has the odor of dampness and decay within its walls and it is steeped in a gloom which cannot be chased by lighted candles. He had admonished them: "Love ye one another," but the lesson is too profoundly simple for anyone to understand except a child.

In the Moslem Quarter, Arab boys shoot marbles with rolled balls of nutty. They kneel in front of the Wailing Wall, where once Jews wept because the Emperor Hadrian would not permit them inside their own temple. Today the Arabs claim that they are persecuted because the State of Israel took their farms and dispossessed them.

The Jews have been persecuted by Moslems and Christians for 17 centuries, and the Christians were persecuted by the Romans for three. We left the walled city of Jerusalem, sacred to Christian, Moslem and Jew, and drove down to Bethlehem. It is the month of Ramadan and the Arabs walked in groups to the mosque on the street from the Church of the Nativity.

Here, the infant Jesus was born. A few pilgrims stooped to walk through the low door at the entrance to the church. Once, a small inn was on this spot and two trails led down the sides to a cave in front of the hill. In the valley, shepherds whistled softly to their flocks and studied the bright stars of the heavens.

This church is also divided. The Greek Church has the main altar and an ornate railing is torn. They claim that the American priests did it after an argument over who has what rights to the place where His blessed mother bore him. None are so mighty as little men.

Below the altar is a little grotto and the theologians and archeologists believe that this is the true manger. There is a gold star in the floor where, presumably, Jesus was born, and, a few feet away, there is a spot where they believe the manger rested, near the stalls of the animals.

Up in the courtyard, a German man and his wife debated whether it was worth while, at their ages, to bend and stoop and go below to the stable. The man said he did not believe anyway. The woman said she was tired. She decided not to go. Her husband, gray of hair and face, shrugged. He would go alone. "I have no faith in this," he said, "but we have come far. I will go."

He did. His guide took him below and he grunted and sneered and listened. At the manger, he stood, empty of soul and mind. His aging eyes reflected the red veil lights and the flicker of dying candles. He was ready to go when an Arab woman came in.

She was very young. Her veil pointed halfway down her back. In her arms was her baby and in her eyes were her tears. The infant was emaciated and fretful. The mother took her baby and, before anyone could stop her, laid him on the spot where, a long time ago, another baby had been born.

She prayed in Arabic, a whining sing-song petition to someone who would understand how much she wanted her child to live. Then she picked him up, put his little head over her shoulders, and left.

When the German pilgrim got back to the street, his wife was powdering her nose. "Well," she said pettishly, "what did you see?"

"What did I see?" he said softly. "I saw everything." . . .

Four Semi-Finals Tonight

Four Of Five 115-Pounders Make Debut

Five-Game Program To Start At 5 P. M.; Finals Wednesday

Ten of the 17 surviving teams in the 17th annual Central YMCA-Jaycees basketball tournament will swing into action on the "Y" court tonight in five of the 13 games remaining on the program which draws to a close Wednesday night.

The tourney started a week ago with 33 teams but sixteen were eliminated in as many contests staged Monday through last Thursday.

Teams In Running

Teams still in the running in the four classes are as follows: 115 Pound Class — Lovers Leap Esso, St. Mary's Gaels, Cunch's Comanches, Ced's Rascals and Snyder's Potato Chips.

135 Pound Class

The first action in the 135-pound class is set for today when Snyder's Potato Chips plays Cunch's Comanches at 5 p.m. and Ced's Rascals tackle St. Mary's Gaels at 6 p.m. Lovers Leap Esso, defending champion, drew a first round bye and plays today's winner between Snyder's and Cunch's on Tuesday at 6 p.m.

Three other games on tap for tonight are as follows:

7:00 — Lovers Leap Esso vs. Police Boys Club (135 pound class).

8:00 — The Dukes vs. Devon Club Dunkers (135 pound class).

9:00 — Cresapton Cut Rate vs. Nave's Market (Junior Unlimited class).

Four Games Semi-Finals

Both 135-pound games and the Ced's-St. Mary's contest tonight are semi-finals as is the Junior Unlimited class contest between Cresapton and Nave's. Four semi-finals are set for Tuesday night and the championship games will be staged Wednesday.

Five of the teams slated to see action tonight will be making their tournament debut. They are:

JR. UNLIMITED CLASS

CRESAPTON — Manager James O'Neal, Alan Kaplan, Mike Miller, Lynn Adams, Gary Zembower, John Roy, "Butch" Cross, "Chuck" Davis, Dick Sindy, Bill Younger and Roy Hosier.

Pipers Tighten Grip On First

Cleveland Whips Majors, 111-102

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The Cleveland Pipers grabbed a solid hold on first place in the Eastern Division on the American Basketball League Sunday by defeating the Chicago Majors, 111-102.

It was the Pipers' fifth straight victory. On Wednesday the Pipers will play the third-place Pittsburgh Rens at the Cleveland Arena.

In a battle that was tied 24 times, the Pipers took a 32-30 lead in the first period and were in front, 58-56, at the half.

John Cox paced the Pipers with 24 points, followed by Johnny Barnhill's 22. The leading scorer of the game was Chicago's Tony Jackson, who had 28 points.

Tuesday; Mounts
Win At Evansville

By United Press International
It'll be Ohio State against Wake Forest and Cincinnati against UCLA in the semifinals of the NCAA basketball tournament.

The nation's first and second-ranked college teams continued their seemingly inexorable march toward a reply of their title round game last March when they swept past regional opponents Saturday night. They'll square off against their semifinal opponents at Louisville, Ky., next Friday night and, then, barring a startling upset will oppose each other in the championship game.

Cincinnati won the NCAA title last season by upsetting Ohio State after the latter had won all its regular-season games and, of course, all its early-round tournament games.

Buckeyes, Bearcats Win
Ohio State, the nation's first-ranked team, beat Kentucky, 74-64, and Cincinnati rolled over Colorado, 73-46, Saturday night while Wake Forest defeated Villanova, 79-69, and UCLA topped Oregon State, 88-69.

The National Invitation Tournament was also in full swing in New York with Dayton beating Houston, 94-77, and Loyola (Ill.) topping Temple, 75-64, in quarter-final games and Duquesne downing Navy, 70-58, and Holy Cross shading Colorado State, 72-71, in first-round games.

Mounts Bag Title
Mt. St. Mary's (Md.) edged out Sacramento State, 53-37, in overtime to win the NCAA college division tournament at Evansville, Ind., and Prairie View A&M, third-ranked UPI small college team, whipped top-seeded Westminster (Pa.), 62-53, to win the NAIA tournament at Kansas City, Mo., in other Saturday night tournament action.

All-American Jerry Lucas scored 33 points, his top figure of the season, to pace Ohio State. The 6-8 center had 25 points in the first half and also pulled down nine of the Buckeyes' 18 rebounds. With the score 22-18, Lucas reeled off 15 points to produce a 37-29 Buckeye bulge and that was that.

Huge Paces Bearcats
Paul Hogue scored 22 points, Ron Bonham had 17 and George Wilson 16 to lead Cincinnati to its victory over Colorado. The Bearcats led, 41-29, at halftime and were ahead by 18 points with 12:10 remaining.

Wake Forest used its great physical advantages to wear down Villanova although it was 5-9 Billy Pecker's 18 points that made the big difference on the scoreboard. Six-eight Len Chappell and 6-10 Bob Wollard controlled the boards for the Deacons.

UCLA rolled up a 44-30 halftime lead and outlasted Oregon State to advance into the semifinal round of the tournament for the first time in its history. It was the 14th victory in their last 16 games for the Bruins, who lost seven of their first 11 games this season.

NIT Resumes Tuesday
Ron Miller scored 19 points and Vic Rouse and Jerry Harkness had 15 each to lead Loyola while Dayton walloped Houston with ease in the NIT quarter-final games. Loyola and Dayton meet in the semifinal round Thursday night and the other semifinal pairing will be determined by the winners of Tuesday night's quarter-finals which pit Holy Cross against St. John's and Bradley against Duquesne.

Jack and Bob Foley paced Holy Cross to a 72-71 triumph over Villanova and Duquesne breezed to a 70-53 win over Navy in the NIT's Saturday afternoon opening-round games.

Phils Hand Mets Fourth Loss In Row

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies handed the New York Mets their fourth straight defeat, 3-2, Sunday despite the strong pitching of the Mets' Roger Craig, who allowed only four hits in eight innings.

Craig, who went five scoreless innings against the Pirates in his last start, has permitted only six hits and two earned runs in 12 innings. In the same span he permitted only six hits, walked only two and struck out eight.

Joe Owen, Frank Sullivan and Jack Baldschun pitched the victory for the Phillies, with Sullivan working four scoreless middle innings.

Clarion Stops Hyndman, 55-47

Hornets Ousted From Title Race

For the second time in three years Hyndman High School's Hornets failed to hurdle the final obstacle in the path to their drive for the Pennsylvania Class C basketball championship when they dropped a 55-47 decision to Clarion Joint High School Saturday night at Kittanning High School.

The victory gave Clarion its Western Pennsylvania title and earned Coach Bob Murphy's Bobcats from Clarion county a shot at the eastern championship for state honors.

Two years ago Hyndman reached the western finals but lost out to Commodore Perry High School of Hadley.

Hyndman was outscored 21 to 18 from the field and 13 to 11 at the foul line. Clarion held a 23-24 lead at halftime.

The Vail brothers, Norman and Don scored 15 points each and Ron Marshall collected 14 for the winners. Steve Stouffer paced the Hornets with 14 tallies.

Hyndman wound up its season with a 10-13 record. Clarion has won 18 out of 26 games. Box score:

Cards Edge Braves In Eleventh, 7-6

BRANDENTON, Fla. (UPI) — Minnie Minoso's only hit of the day, a single with two out in the 11th inning, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 7-6 victory over the Milwaukee Braves Sunday.

Johnny Kucks, former American leaguer, gained credit for the victory with a scoreless two-inning relief job. Don McMahon was the loser.

The Cardinals took a 6-2 lead in the top of the ninth on Bill White's grand slam home run off Bob Hendley, but the Braves came back to tie the score on five hits off Ed Bauta.

Cleveland Indians Lose To Giants, 4-1

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants beat the Cleveland Indians Sunday, 4-1, as Felipe Alou drove in two runs with a triple and single besides scoring twice himself to account for all the Giants' runs.

The Indians made only one hit, a single off Jim Duffalo in the three innings he worked. Winner Mike McCormick pitched the Indians one run on two hits.

Dick Donovan started for the Indians and gave up one run on four hits in five innings. Dick Stigman allowed three runs on five hits to be charged with the loss.

No Smoke Helps: Peter Snell Hangs Up World Indoor Record For Half-Mile

New Zealand Star's Time Is 1:49.9 In Tokyo, Japan, Meet

TOKYO (AP) — With the "no smoking" signs posted and the heat turned down, New Zealand's fabulous Peter Snell blazed to another track record Sunday, posting a world indoor mark of 1:49.9 for the half-mile.

Snell, 23, who smashed both the world outdoor mile and half-mile records earlier this year, clipped three-tenths of a second off the indoor 880-yard standard he set Feb. 9 in Los Angeles.

When he ran the mile in 4:06.7 Saturday, Snell complained that the Tokyo Metropolitan Gym, where the Japan National Track and Field Championships are being held, was too smoky and stuffy.

So Sunday the officials posted the no smoking orders and turned off some of the electric heaters in the 5,000-seat arena, which was packed to capacity for Snell's performance.

Hayes Jones of Pontiac, Mich., the world's premier hurdler, was a double winner. He took the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.1 and the 60-yard dash in 6.1.

Cimoli's Hit Beats Buccos

Two-Run Double Wins For KC, 3-1

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI) — Kansas City pitchers held Pittsburgh to three hits Sunday to hand the Pirates their fourth exhibition loss of the spring, 3-1.

John Wyatt, Dan Pfister and Diego Segui did the pitching for the Athletics, who won the game when Gino Cimoli, a former Pirate, hit a two-run double off Bob Friend in the fourth inning.

Friend gave up all of the runs, two of them unearned, and seven of the nine Kansas City hits. Earl Francis pitched three scoreless innings for the Pirates.

Tigers Clobber Joey Jay, 12-6

Reds' Ace Yields Eight Hits, 9 Runs

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers jumped on Joey Jay, the Cincinnati Reds' ace right hander, for nine runs in the first two innings Sunday in coasting to a 12-6 victory.

It was the first outing of the spring for Jay, who was a holdout for the first two weeks of training.

During the two innings he worked Jay was combed for eight hits, including a triple by Bill Bruton and a homer by Norm Cash. He also doled out four walks, all coming in the second inning.

The Reds, in dropping their sixth game in nine outings, nicknamed Tiger hurlers Frank Lary, Hank Aguirre, and Bob Dostal for 10 hits, one a homer by Eddie Kaslo. Lynch made three of the Reds' hits.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Don Fairfield shot a 66 Sunday to surge from a tie for 14th place to a tie for the lead with Frank Boynton after 54 holes of the $20,000 St. Petersburg Open golf tournament.

Fairfield, consistently in the money on the PGA tournament trail although seldom a winner, showed a card of 69-72-66-207, compared to a total of 65-69-73-207 for Boynton, who led after both the first and second rounds.

Locked in a four-way tie for third at 208, only one shot off the pace, were Cary Middlecoff, Jim Ferrier, Bobby Nichols, and Juan Rodriguez. All shot 70 Sunday except Middlecoff, who turned in a 71.

There was a three-way tie at 209 among Dave Marr, Tommy Jacobs, and Mike Krak, and another three-way tie at 210 among defending champion Bob Goaly, John Barnum, and Gordon Jones. A hard-fought final round Monday seemed assured with 14 players bunched within four strokes of the lead.

MASON-DIXON LOOP Adds 16th School

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Mason-Dixon Conference expanded to 16 schools Sunday when officials approved the membership application of Norfolk William & Mary. The Norfolk institution, which will sever its ties with William & Mary later this year and become a separate liberal arts school, will be eligible for Mason-Dixon athletic competition on Sept. 1. The name of the college also will be changed.

Welter Title At Stake In Garden Bout

Paret And Griffith To Clash Saturday

NEW YORK (UPI) — Emile Griffith of the Virgin Islands is a 5-2 favorite to beat Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba at Madison Square Garden Saturday night and regain the world welterweight championship.

The 15-round title bout which features a relatively light boxing week will be televised by ABC-TV beginning at 10 p.m. EST.

Saturday's bout completes a series of three in which the title has twice changed hands. Griffith won it from Paret by knocking him out in the 13th round at Miami Beach, Fla., April 1, 1961 and then lost it back to the Cuban bzzawz by a split decision at the Garden, Sept. 30, 1961.

Paret last saw action on last Dec. 9 when Gene Fullmer thwarted his bid to win the world (NBA) middleweight crown with a TKO in the 10th round.

Griffith, 23, who now makes his home in New York, is favored or the strength of his steeper physical edge. Griffith's pre record is 28-3 compared to Paret's 34-11-3 and he is somewhat the bigger man from the waist up.

Paret, 25, won the championship for the first time when he outpointed Don Jordan on May 27, 1960 and successfully defended against Federico Thompson on Dec. 10, 1960. He's a tireless "crowder" who is at his best inside whereas Griffith is most effective at long range.

Yankees Cop 8th Straight

Six Runs In Fifth Sink Chisox, 10-3

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — The New York Yankees afforded the Chicago White Sox the luxury of an early lead, then unleashed a six-run fifth inning to win their eighth straight game, 10-3, before a sellout crowd of 7,265 Sunday.

The undefeated Yankees unloaded their 14-hit assault against a trio of pitchers. The chief victims were Joel Horlen and Frank Baumann. Don Zanni finished up for the White Sox.

Horlen, the starting pitcher, was knocked out of the box in the fifth. He was replaced by Baumann, who ran into troubles of his own in the seventh when Clotis Boyer's home run spiced a four-run rally.

Burgess Has Ulcers, To Rest Two Weeks

FORT MYERS, Fla. (UPI) — Catcher Myers Burgess of the Pittsburgh Pirates has been ordered to rest for two weeks because of ulcers. A specialist recommended the rest and placed Burgess on a special diet.

The 35-year-old Burgess has been treating his ulcers for the past few years but the attack he recently suffered here was the most severe and he visited a specialist.

In addition to complete rest and diet, the physician told Burgess to refrain from any exercise.

Manager Danny Murtaugh, who has been battling the flu bug all spring, took advantage of open dates Monday and Tuesday to enter the hospital here for a rest and a check-up. He will be back on the field Wednesday when the Eucs entertain the Dodgers.

Murder Charged In Knifing

Ralph Lepley, 46, Dead; John Gentile Held In Jail

A murder charge has been placed against 46-year-old John J. Gentile, 14 East Fairview Street, Piedmont, in connection with the Saturday night death of his brother-in-law, Ralph Lepley, also 46, same address, who died from a knife stab wound in the abdomen inflicted during a scuffle at the dwelling, authorities said.

Gentile is lodged in the Mineral County jail in Keyser and may appear this morning before Circuit Court Judge David Cuppett in order that bond might be set, said C. Reeves Taylor, prosecuting attorney of the county.

Lepley, who was employed as a pipefitter at the Amcelle plant, was pronounced dead on arrival at Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser about 7:40 p.m. Saturday.

An autopsy was performed by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, acting Mineral County medical examiner, who said death was due to shock caused by an intra-abdominal hemorrhage. He was reported to have been stabbed in the abdomen above the belt line.

Called Police

Gentile is reported to have notified Piedmont Police Chief Charles R. Spiker of the incident about 7:30 p.m. The police chief in turn notified Cpl. F. W. Armstrong and Trooper Robert Neechel of the State Police at Keyser.

They investigated and took Gentile before Justice of the Peace Eugene Spiker at Piedmont for arraignment. Later he was taken to the county jail and was lodged there at 4:15 a.m. yesterday by the state police who obtained a murder warrant.

The scuffle occurred in the living room of the dwelling and the victim was stabbed with a butcher knife, said authorities.

Lepley was taken to the hospital in the ambulance of the Fredlock Funeral Home in that community.

Lepley's wife, Mrs. Lucy Jo (Gentile) Lepley, is a patient in Potomac Valley Hospital where she was admitted several days ago for a physical checkup.

Native of Cumberland

A native of Cumberland, Lepley was a son of Mrs. Pleasant R. (Anderson) Lepley, of Pittsburgh, and the late Loda B. Lepley.

Besides his mother, he is survived by his wife and two children, Gwendolyn and John Lepley, both at home.

He is also survived by two daughters by a previous marriage who live in Florida: a brother, Stewart Lepley, Arvale, N. J.; five sisters, Mrs. Ida Elslager, Columbia, Pa.; Mrs. Annabelle Corrigan, LaVale; Mrs. Cleo Hite, Bedford Valley, Pa.; Mrs. Mary Cook, Ellicott City, and Mrs. Susan King, Reisterstown Road, Baltimore.

The body will be at the Fredlock Funeral Home this evening. A service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the funeral home and burial will be in the Anderson family cemetery, Bedford Road.

Mahoney Again Blames Tawes

BALTIMORE (AP)—George P. Mahoney, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination and opponent of Gov. Tawes, said Sunday the savings and loan scandal "is moving closer and closer to the doors of the executive mansion in Annapolis."

Mahoney observed in a statement that Harry W. Rogers III, treasurer of a campaign dinner for Tawes last fall, was a director of Monumental City Savings and Loan Association, which was enjoined Saturday from accepting any new accounts.

The Baltimore County contractor said Rogers also was a partner of Philip W. Tawes, son of the governor, "in an insurance firm which has close political ties and which does a great deal of insurance business with the state and state agencies."

Tawes, Cohorts Head West To Open Campaign

Mahoney To Start His Tour Tuesday

By The Associated Press

Members of the Tawes ticket, delayed several hours because of a bus company strike, left Baltimore Sunday night to launch their active campaign for nomination in the May 15 Democratic primary election.

Three statewide candidates on the Tawes slate were among those who departed on the long trip to Oakland, Garrett County, where the drive for Western Maryland votes was scheduled to begin Monday morning.

The governor and Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan left Annapolis by automobile and joined the party when a stop was made for dinner on U.S. 40, near the Frederick-Carroll county line.

Tawes had been in Baltimore early in the day, but returned to Annapolis on personal business after the breakdown in plans.

A Baltimore & Annapolis Railroad bus had been hired and decorated for the trip, but campaign leaders decided at the last minute not to use it because of a continuing strike by company drivers. Then, when a Baltimore Transit Co. bus was hired, it had to be driven to Annapolis to be outfitted with decorations and a public address system.

In Garrett Today

The bus will be used to visit Mountain Lake Park, Deer Park, Kitzmiller, Oakland, Accident, Friendsville and Grantsville in Garrett County Monday. Then the candidates will move into Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties on successive days the remainder of the week.

Those riding the bus out of Baltimore included Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein, who is seeking reelection; Rep. Daniel B. Brewster, a candidate for U. S. Senate; and Del. Perry O. Wilkinson, who is running for congressman - at large.

Accompanying them were Herbert R. O'Connor Jr., state campaign chairman, and William J. Culbertson, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, which has endorsed the Tawes ticket.

On hand to see the party off were former Baltimore mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, chairman of the campaign advisory committee; Del. Egbert L. Quinn from the governor's home county of Somerset, and Norman C. Mason, chairman of the Somerset County state central committee and chairman of the State Board of Motion Picture Censors.

While in Baltimore Sunday, Tawes reviewed the city's annual St. Patrick's Day parade. One of those riding in the parade was George P. Mahoney, who is considered the chief opponent blocking the governor's bid for renomination. Mahoney will start his campaign tour of Western Maryland Tuesday.

The Unit Votes

Tawes and Mahoney will be bidding for the 25 unit votes available in the four western counties. Under the Maryland primary system for statewide office, a candidate winning the most popular votes—even by a majority of one—is accorded all unit votes in the county or Baltimore district.

The number of unit votes is equal to the subdivision's representation in the legislature. A total of 77 is needed for victory.

Allegany, Frederick, and Washington are worth seven unit votes each and Garrett four.

While Tawes swept the four counties in his 1958 election, Mahoney also has fared well there.

In his last Democratic primary against Thomas D'Alesandro four years ago for the U.S. Senate nomination, Mahoney captured Frederick and Garrett counties.

Against Republican Senate incumbents, Mahoney won Frederick and Washington in 1956 and 1962.

Dr. Gamble Has Class In Recorder

Dr. Frank Gamble, former supervisor of music education in Allegany County public schools, is continuing his campaign to get more adults to learn to play the recorder in Vancouver, British Columbia, where he now lives.

In occasional talks to civic groups in Cumberland, Dr. Gamble used to urge the development of family musical groups. He illustrated his talk by showing how easy it is to play the recorder.

Now he is teaching nearly 100 adults to play the flute-like instrument at night school classes at the University of British Columbia. His efforts were featured in a feature story in a recent issue of the Vancouver Sun. The photograph accompanying the article shows Dr. Gamble's 12-year-old daughter, Sheron, and John Lund, a UBC professor, playing the recorder.

Dr. Gamble likes the recorder because students learn the principles of music theory, sight reading and so on while actually playing themselves instead of listening to others.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Marvin, College Park, announce the birth of a son Wednesday in Prince George County Hospital. The parents are former residents of Cumberland.

City Planning Unit Will Get First Reports

Meeting Set For Tuesday Night

The Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in City Hall, and will get a report on two items needed for the preparation of a master plan.

Reports on the land use and building condition surveys will be presented by representatives of Blair Associates, which began work recently on a 22-month planning study here.

John R. Joyner, resident planner for the project, began work here this week with Douglas Porter, planner, and were completing work on the two items of the physical studies which will serve as a basis for future planning.

Both studies include every piece of property in the city, and are designed to give a picture of how each parcel of land in the city limits is being used, and if it is improved with buildings, the type and condition.

To give a quick picture, all of the data is being indicated on maps by color.

George T. Marcou, an associate of the Washington firm, is expected to attend the meeting.

Mr. Joyner, who will spend most of his time here during the planning study, is expected soon to set up his office in a room set aside by the Mayor and Council on the second floor of City Hall.

Change Of Address Information Sought

People who buy property in Cumberland are being advised to notify the City Tax Office so new address plates can be prepared.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said the Finance Department is anxious to learn of all property changes so city bills can be sent to the correct address this fall.

Some of the changes will be learned routinely as finance office workers check tax transcripts supplied by the county, but owners of property which has changed hands since January 1 should notify the city of the change in address.

LaVale Group Gives Views On Sewage

Letter Is Sent To Mayor Keech, Other Officials

The LaVale Sanitary Commission has sent a letter to Mayor J. Edwin Keech outlining a number of questions concerning matters in a memorandum Cumberland sent the LaVale unit on the sale of sewage treatment services.

The LaVale unit takes issue with a statement in the city's memorandum which says that the construction of a separate sewage treatment facility would "seem to be a waste of money."

On this matter, the LaVale unit says a complete engineering study should be made, including negotiations with Cumberland, before it can be decided what course of action is most feasible and economical for LaVale.

Costs Discussed

Another point in the letter to the city concerns cost of sewage treatment. The LaVale unit says its proposal is based on a proper sharing of actual costs based on the proportion of use by LaVale and Cumberland.

The third point in the letter says LaVale feels it should pay a charge for the treatment of sewage originating in the LaVale area in ratio with the total amount of sewage treated by the Cumberland plant, rather than the possible suggested charges set down in the memorandum.

The LaVale group also feels there should be further engineering studies of the Franklin to Howard Street interceptor before there can be an agreement on responsibility of construction costs and future repairs.

Another point brought out in the letter states LaVale should be able to empty non-harmful industrial waste instead of "any industrial waste" as stated in the city's memorandum.

Amortization Formula

On the final point in the letter, The LaVale unit said it feels there should be a definite formula for determining the sharing of the cost of amortization or additions to the plant based on a ratio of LaVale's use of the facility.

The LaVale unit met with city officials March 9 and the city suggested the sanitary commission put its views in the form of formal statement which would be studied by a consulting firm hired by the city.

Copies of the letter to Mayor Keech also have been sent to Robert T. Regester, Baltimore, whose firm has been hired by the city to study the LaVale sewage plan, and to state officials.

Court Probates Mrs. Rizer's Will

The will of Mrs. Bessie C. Rizer, who was a resident of 441 North Centre Street at the time of her death March 1, has been probated in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Mrs. Rizer's will left $1,000 each to Emmanuel Episcopal Church and the Philadelphia Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children. The rest of her estate was bequeathed to a grandson, William Nelson Cessna.

The Liberty Trust Company of Cumberland qualified as executor of the estate under a $1,000 bond. The will was dated March 14, 1959.

Funeral Scheduled For Fire Victims

Four Die In Home Blaze In Essex

Funeral services for four members of a Westernport family who died Saturday when flames destroyed their frame dwelling in Essex, about six miles east of Baltimore, will be held on Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the Assembly of God Church, Westernport. Rev. A. Newton Chase will officiate and interment will be in Philos Cemetery.

Victims of the fire in Essex were William Kenneth Wilt, 31, and his children, Terry, 4; Billy, 3 and Tina Marie 1.

The mother, Mrs. Patricia (Martin) Wilt, 24, was severely burned about the body and was admitted to City Hospital in Baltimore. She was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night.

It is believed a kerosene stove exploded and caused the fire, according to firemen, who said the blazing fluid spread quickly, destroying the home in about 30 minutes.

Mrs. Wilt's body was found lying across a sofa in the living room of the four-room dwelling, and the children were found in a bedroom.

Mrs. Wilt, clad in a nightgown, was seated in the family car outside the house when firemen arrived. She was hysterical, they said.

Her husband had been employed by the Western Electric Company in the Baltimore area and the family was reported to have occupied the home since 1960.

Mrs. Wilt is a daughter of Allan Martin, of Cosgrove Lane, Westernport, and the late Lilly (Miller) Martin.

Mr. Wilt, a veteran of the Korean War, was a native of Lonaconing and a son of William Z. and Alice (Broadwater) Wilt, McKinley Street, Westernport.

Besides his wife and parents he is survived by five brothers, Wilbur T. and W. Marshall Wilt, both of Westernport; Robert, Ronald and Gary Wilt, all at home; six sisters, Mrs. Loretta Butler, (Continued on Page 5)

Authorities Probe Blaze; Seven Died

Five Dwellings Are Guttled In Holocaust Here

Local authorities continue to seek an answer to the cause of an early morning blaze fanned by high winds Saturday which claimed the lives of six children and an adult and gutted five dwellings on Broadway near Maryland Avenue.

Dead are Mrs. Coston V. Nery, 29; two children by a former marriage, Robert Curtis Rhodes, 5, and Johnny Lee Rhodes, 3; Michael Knipple, 11; John Knipple, 9; Tammy Knipple, 3; and Kathy Knipple, 17 months, children of Mrs. Betty Knipple, all of whom resided at 315 Broadway.

Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney said last night he plans to confer today with Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker in efforts to determine the cause of the fire. Police were on duty yesterday at the scene directing traffic caused by the curious who visited the area.

Authorities conducted an intensive investigation Saturday but were unable to come up with evidence of criminal negligence.

Funerals Today, Tuesday

Combined services for Mrs. Nery and her children will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home. Rev. John H. Buffenmeyer, pastor of Glendale Church of the Brethren, Flintstone, will officiate, and interment will be in the church cemetery.

Services for the Knipple children will be conducted today at 1 p. m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home. Rev. Wendell D. Cover will officiate and interment will be in Sunset Memorial Park.

Fire Chief Parker said a preliminary investigation determined the fire originated in a rear room of the second floor, although the actual cause has not been determined.

The alarm for the blaze was turned in around 4:30 a. m. by James E. Berry, 412 Louisiana Avenue, on his way to work for the Queen City Dairy Company.

Central Station was the first to respond, but more than 100 firemen soon were on the scene as units from South End, West Side and East Side were called to assist in battling the blaze. Members of the Ridgeley Volunteer Fire Company also participated.

The high winds spread flames through the adjoining homes, and firemen said it was fortunate no more lives were lost. They explained the flames quickly spread through the rafters and joists of the row of houses, and the occupants were forced to flee without saving any possessions other than the clothes on their backs.

Mrs. Nery recently had separated from her husband and gone to live with Mrs. Knipple and her four children. Mrs. Knipple was a widow, her husband having died last August.

Authorities said Mrs. Maxine Dyer, 517 Woodside Avenue had been babysitting at the Knipple residence but had gone home when Mrs. Nery came home about 12:30 a.m. Saturday.

Another woman who made her home with Mrs. Knipple, Mrs. Betty Lou Pryor Rinker, came home some time later. After the blaze broke out, Mrs. Rinker jumped from the second-floor window into the arms of John Campbell, who lived next-door at 317 Broadway, and Byron Valentine.

ABL Motor To Launch Scout

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said Sunday a solid propellant motor produced by the Naval plant at Indian Head, Md., will be used in the launching of the Air Force Blue Scout high-altitude research rocket.

The motor, known as the X-248, will provide the power for the fourth stage of the Blue Scout and also will be used in several space research and satellite launch missiles, the Navy announcement said.

The Navy added that its pilot plant at Indian Head received an Air Force order in January to manufacture and test 12 of the motors for the Blue Scout program.

The motor was developed by Allegany Ballistics Laboratory, Cumberland, Md. The Navy tested the first of the motors in mid-February.

The X-248 motor also has served as the upper stage propulsion for research space vehicles.

BETHESDA, (AP)—Area campaign headquarters of James P. Gleason, Republican candidate for U.S. senator, were opened Sunday in Bethesda.

Openings of Gleason offices in Baltimore and on the Eastern Shore will be held this week.

Commissioners Meet At 10 A.M. Tuesday

Because Governor J. Millard Tawes will be at the Port Cumberland Hotel for breakfast at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday as he begins his primary election campaign, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners will meet from 10 a. m. until noon on that day only.

John J. Rowan, commission president, last night said that he and Commissioner John T. Mason would be unable to attend the breakfast and convene at the Court House at 9 a. m. as they have been doing in recent weeks. This later starting time will be for tomorrow only, Mr. Rowan stressed.

Scene Of Fatal Fire Here

The above picture was taken Saturday after a fire claimed the lives of six children and an adult, and gutted five dwellings on Broadway near Maryland Avenue. Four local fire companies and volunteers of Ridgeley fought the blaze. High winds fanned the flames which swept through the dwellings early Saturday morning. (Pictures of six of the victims are on page 5.)
